BRIEF FACTS

The Accused person is a lawyer and Convener of social movement namely 'FixTheCountry'. Sometime in February, 2022, the Ashiaman Police received a report that Accused person was inciting some group of persons believing to be members of the FixTheCountry movement. That on receipt of the report, the Police mounted surveillance on the accused person until his arrest at Kotoka International Airport on Friday 11th February, 2022 when he arrived from the United Kingdom (UK). Preliminary investigation has revealed that accused is a lawyer and a PhD student at Cambridge University, UK. It has also been established during investigation that Accused for some time now has been inciting some group of persons through the social media to undertake an unlawful enterprise to usurp the executive powers of the Government of Ghana. Pursuant to his preparation to usurp the executive powers of the Government of Ghana, accused further published on his facebook wall that the Ghana army is useless and went ahead to declare his intention in a facebook post to stage a coup if the Electronic Transaction Levy [E-Levy] is passed by Parliament. Investigation also revealed that the said E-Levy Bill is currently before Parliament and that the accused arrival in the Country was in furtherance of his intention to stage a coup as declared by him.
